“The Negro soldiers have been here and took $13.00 in money and a pearl brooch marked ‘M.C. King. Some of the negroes belonging here have been very insulting and threatened to shoot Dr. C. Fitzsimmons. The two worst—Peter and Edward were placed under arrest over night and after a salutary lesson from the Capt. (F. M. Montell) were released. Capt. Montell also succeeded in capturing a negro named ‘Stephen’ who had passed himself off as a Capt. Stepphens of the army and had pillaged all the houses in the vicinity representing that he had been sent to do so by the Federal Gov’t. Authorities. He had also taken 3 trucks (full) from Mrs. Charles Tenant and conveyed them to a Mr. Thaydens (to whom he used to belong). The Commd’g. Officer had them all returned. Stephen was sent aboard the Potomska and placed in double irons. The Negro troops said that they had orders to burn the house down. They were there about 2 a.m. entering the ladies rooms.” Continues, claiming that the soldiers insulted the women and were going to commit an outrage. They were stopped by the house servants; they planned to return the next day but their plan was foiled. This unit claimed to be under Lt. Col. James.
